The Trevor Collins Golf Day
October 5 2015
Ashridge Golf Club
HP4 1LY

Trevor used to love playing at Ashridge and even renamed the Spike Bar “the Merlot Suite” as it was not rare to see a glass of Merlot being used as a warm up before the round! This did save the walk to the practice fairway!!!

In Trevor’s memory, we are offering you the chance to play golf at Ashridge, which quite often features in the top 100 courses in the UK. Ashridge Forest was one of the famous deer hunting areas of King Henry VIII and you are very likely to see deer on the course.

We have 50 places for this occasion which starts with breakfast at 0800 and ends with a carvery lunch in the dining room. Teams of four can enter as well as individuals who we can team up with others. The cost per person is £99 (non refundable) and includes everything as above.

Dress code can be found on the Ashridge Golf Club web site as well as the directions to get there.

Jackets and ties will be essential for lunch in the dining room. www.ashridgegolfclub.ltd.uk

This is an important day to help raise funds for the achievement of our goals. We need a further £100,000 to fund the Bowel Cancer Screening Research Project which is running in Trevor’s name at the Queen Mary University of London. We have already funded the first £100,000 and we now need the balance.

Prizes will be awarded for teams and individuals.
